Headline:
A fine, dry and sunny day on Monday.

Today:
A cold start with any frost or isolated fog patches soon lifting, then a dry and bright morning with some sunny spells, especially in the east. Staying warm and dry through the afternoon, but with increasingly hazy sunshine. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Turning cold again overnight, but generally cloudy for much of the region. Some brief clear spells are possible, with a risk of slight frost, mist or coastal fog. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Tuesday:
After early frost or mist clear, a dry, but generally cloudy morning with light winds. Cloud then thickening through the afternoon with some spots of rain and drizzle. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Cloud and rain clearing through Wednesday morning, then dry and sunny later but frosty overnight. Fine, dry and sunny through Thursday and Friday, but with further overnight frosts.
